While the information in Using Your ACT Results is also provided on the Student Score Report, this document provides a convenient reference for your score report on the following topics:

- Your Composite score and scores for each subject, including the writing test if you took it.
- Your scores on the combined STEM and ELA indicators.
- Your scores in relation to the ACT College Readiness Benchmark and the Readiness Range for each subject test.
- Your scores in comparison to scores of other students who took the ACT in the US and in your state.
- Detailed results for each reporting category within each subject you took.
- Your Progress Toward the ACT National Career Readiness Certificate indicator.
- Sending your scores to colleges.
- Using your scores for college and career planning.
- Whether you should retest based on your current ACT scores.
- ACT services and policies related to taking the test and how we scored your test.

Understanding Your Scores

Here's some information about the main graphic on your score report.

We counted your correct answers on each subject test. We didn't take off points for wrong answers. Then, we converted your number of correct answers into a score that ranges from 1 to 36. We call these subject test scores. Your Composite score is the average of your four multiple-choice subject test scores, rounded to the nearest whole number. If you left any test completely blank, that score is reported as two dashes and no Composite score is computed.

For the subject test, Composite, writing, STEM, and ELA scores, you'll notice that your score report shows the specific line (thicker on the graphic) of your score, and it also shows a shaded area around this line. This is your Score Range. Test scores are estimates of your educational development. Think of your achievement on these tests as being within a range that extends about 1 point for the Composite score and the writing test and 2 points for STEM, ELA, and the subject test scores. The shaded areas represent this range for each score.

The writing test is graded by two raters who score your essay on a scale of 1 to 6 in each of the four writing domains. Each of these domains represents essential skills and abilities that are necessary to meet the writing demands of college and career. Your domain scores (shown below the main graphic), ranging from 2 to 12, are a sum of the two raters' scores. Your writing score is the average of your four domain scores rounded to the nearest whole number.

WRITING	08
Ideas & Analysis	8
Development & Support	8

Language Use & Conventions	8

To learn more about what your writing scores mean, visit www.act.org/the-act/writing-scores.

Your STEM and ELA scores represent your overall performance on the specific subject tests you took. The STEM score looks at the science and mathematics tests to produce a combined score, and the ELA does the same for the English, reading, and writing tests. If you didn't receive a score for one of the subject areas, no STEM or ELA score will be produced.

The main graphic on your score report also shows how your scores relate to the ACT College Readiness Benchmarks for each multiple-choice subject (and also for the STEM and ELA scores). If your score for a test was above or equal to the Benchmark, it means you have a 50% chance of obtaining a B or higher, or about a 75% chance of obtaining a C or higher in specific first-year college courses in the corresponding subject area. There is currently no Benchmark for writing.

Finally, you'll see a section about your US and State ranks for the different subject tests, as well as the Composite, ELA, and STEM scores. Your ranks tell you the approximate percentages of recent high school graduates in the US and your state who took the ACT and received scores that are the same as or lower than your scores. In the example of the Composite score on the previous page, a rank of 56 for your Composite score means 56% of students earned a Composite score of 21 or below.

Further down on the first page of your score report, you'll notice a breakdown of each subject test by the different reporting categories that are included.

This graphic shows how many questions were included for each reporting category, and your percentage of correct answers. There are also indicators of whether or not you fell within the ACT Readiness Range for each subject. The ACT Readiness Range shows where a student who has met the ACT College Readiness Benchmark on this subject test would typically perform.

For the reading test, you'll see an additional indicator measuring how well you did in Understanding Complex Texts. This indicator lets you know if you are understanding the central meaning of complex texts at a level that is needed to succeed in college courses with higher reading demand.

Sending Your Scores

A score report (including your photo) was automatically sent to the high school you reported when registration was completed for the test. Your school will use this information for counseling, evaluating the effectiveness of instruction, and planning changes and improvements in the curriculum.

At your direction, your scores from this test date are also being reported to the colleges shown. (Be aware that when you send a report to a college that is part of a school system, the college may share your score with other colleges in that system.) Institutions use your test scores along with high school grades, academic preparation, out-of-class accomplishments, future plans, and other factors to help identify applicants who can benefit most from their programs. In addition, colleges can use results on the ACT to assist scholarship/loan agencies in identifying qualified candidates, place students in first-year courses, and help students develop an appropriate program of study.

If you listed a college code incorrectly or forgot to include one, don't worry! You can still send scores to other colleges. Visit www.act.org/the-act/scores to explore student resources or to order additional score reports.

Planning Your Education and Career

Where are you going? Knowing your interests can help you find the kinds of majors and occupations that may be right for you. Before you took the ACT, you had the opportunity to complete an interest inventory. Your inventory results can suggest occupations that involve the kinds of activities you prefer.

Occupations differ widely in how much they involve working with four basic work tasks: Data, Ideas, People, and Things. These four tasks are reflected in the College and Career Planning graphic on your score report. If you completed the interest inventory, the graphic visually summarizes your work-relevant interests by pointing toward occupations that involve the kinds of basic work tasks you prefer.

In the graphic you'll also see sample occupations that align with these interests. Go to www.act.org/collegeplanning to learn more about yourself and find out about careers, majors, and colleges that may be right for you. It's free!

There are also two graphics on your score report that provide insight on the connection between your education and possible career paths. The section on Interest–Major Fit compares your interests to the interests of students in the major you told us you plan to enter based on information you provided. The “fit” between you and students in that major is shown as one of three levels: low, medium, or high. It's important to consider your interest-major fit because students with medium or high levels of fit are usually more satisfied with their major. This indicator may help you strengthen or reconsider your future career plans.

The Progress Toward the ACT National Career Readiness Certificate® indicator provides an estimate of the ACT National Career Readiness Certificate (ACT NCRC®) that students with your ACT Composite score are likely to obtain. The ACT NCRC is an assessment-based credential that documents foundational work skills important for job success across industries and occupations. Visit www.act.org/NCRC-Indicator to learn more.

In this example, a Composite score of 21 indicates that you or students with the same Composite score are likely to obtain a Silver level on the ACT NCRC.

Retesting with the ACT

If, after getting your scores, you're thinking of retaking the ACT, consider if one or more of the following applies to you:

- Do you feel that your scores should be higher than those received?
- Did you have any problems during the tests, like misunderstanding the directions or feeling ill?
- Have you taken more coursework or an intensive review in the areas covered?
- Do you want to apply to a college that requires or recommends the writing test?

The graphic below shows how the Composite score is typically affected by a retest. Go to www.act.org/the-act/retaking for more information.

Certain restrictions apply to retesting:

- You can test only once on a given ACT test date (National, International, or through State or District testing).
- ACT has a policy regarding the number of times you can retake the ACT. Visit www.act.org/the-act/retestlimit for more information.

There are also guidelines for which scores get reported by ACT if you retest:

- If you test more than once, you choose which test date or set of scores to send to colleges.
- All scores from a test date are reported as a set. ACT does not create new records by combining scores from different test dates.
- If you want to report your writing score, all scores from that test date will be reported. You can't choose to send a score for the writing test by itself.

REQUESTING A COPY OF YOUR TEST QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

If you tested on one of the test dates below, you can order a Test Information Release (TIR) for an additional fee. Fee information is located at www.act.org/the-act/fees. Through TIR, you receive a copy of the multiple-choice test questions used to determine your scores, a list of your answers, and the answer key. If you took the writing test, you also receive a copy of the writing prompt, scoring guidelines, and the scores assigned to your essay. Information about ordering a photocopy of your answer document (including your essay if you took writing) for an additional fee will be included with your materials.

- ~ Saturday, December 8, 2018 (June 10, 2019)
- ~ Thursday, April 11 through Monday, April 15, 2019 (October 14, 2019)
- ~ Saturday, June 8, 2019 (December 9, 2019)

If you ordered a TIR when you registered, materials are mailed about four weeks after scores are reported. You can also order a TIR for six months after the applicable National test date. Postmarked deadlines are in parentheses above. You can download the order form at www.act.org/the-act/tir.

This service is not offered on any other test dates or through other testing programs (e.g., International, State or District, Special). If for any reason ACT has to replace the test form scheduled for use at your test center, this offer becomes void, and ACT will refund your fee for this service.

SCORE VERIFICATION SERVICE

You can ask ACT to verify your multiple-choice and/or your writing test scores up to twelve months after your test date. A verification request form is available at www.act.org/the-act/scores. You will need to complete the form and mail to:

ACT Customer Care
PO Box 414
Iowa City, IA 52243-0414, USA

Include your name as given at the time of testing, address, and date of birth, as well as your ACT ID, test date (month and year), and test location from your score report. Enclose a check payable to ACT Customer Care for the applicable fee.

For multiple-choice tests, ACT will verify that your responses were checked against the correct score key.

For writing tests, ACT will verify that your essay was scored by at least two independent, qualified readers and by a third reader in the event that the two scores differed by more than one point in any domain. ACT will also verify that your essay was properly captured and displayed to readers. If errors are discovered during score verification, ACT will rescore your essay.

ACT will inform you by letter of the results of the score verification about three to five weeks after receiving your request. If a scoring error is discovered, your scores will be changed and corrected reports will be released to you and all previous score report recipients at no charge. In addition, your score verification fee will be refunded. You may also request to be present for verification of your multiple-choice responses—without access to the test questions—at an ACT-designated location. Additional fees will apply.

CORRECTING ERRORS ON YOUR REPORT

If you think there is an error in information other than your scores or you want to change information (e.g., address change) within three months of receiving your scores, write to:

ACT Customer Care
PO Box 414
Iowa City, IA 52243-0414, USA

If an error is found to have been made by ACT and requires you to retest, it will be at the expense of ACT. If an error is found to have been made by ACT and does not involve retesting, corrected score reports will be sent to you and all previous score recipients at no charge. If an error is not found to be made by ACT and you wish to send corrected reports, you must request and pay for Additional Score Reports.

We regularly prepare reports on the technical characteristics of the ACT tests. A PDF copy of the ACT Technical Manual can be found at www.act.org/the-act/resources.

For more information on using your ACT results, visit www.act.org/the-act/scores.

ACT Policies

The following is a selection of ACT policies for your reference. For more complete information about scoring and reporting, please see ACT's Terms and Conditions: Testing Rules and Policies for the ACT® Test ("Terms and Conditions") at www.act.org/the-act/terms. For complete information about any ACT policies, see www.actstudent.org.

PRIVACY POLICY AND NOTICE OF COLLECTION OF PERSONALLY IDENTIFYING INFORMATION

When you registered for or took the ACT test, you consented to the collection of personally identifying information and its subsequent use, transfer, and disclosure, as described in the ACT Privacy Policy. For a full description of our Privacy Policy and practices, please review the ACT Privacy Policy at www.act.org/privacy.html. Any questions about the ACT Privacy Policy or this notice should be directed to our Data Protection Official at DPO@act.org.

INDIVIDUAL SCORE REVIEWS

If ACT discovers any reason to believe your score may be invalid—such as evidence of unusual similarities in the answers of you and another examinee, evidence that you may have falsified your identity or impersonated someone else, evidence of possible advance access to test questions or answers, or other indicators the test scores may not be valid—ACT may conduct an Individual Score Review. ACT reserves the right to cancel test scores when there is reason to believe the scores are invalid. Proof of misconduct is not required to cancel scores.

COMPROMISES/DISRUPTIONS IN THE TESTING PROCESS— LIMITATION OF REMEDIES

ACT takes steps that are intended to ensure that test registrations are correctly processed, tests are properly administered, tests and answer documents are properly handled and scored, and scores are properly reported. In the unlikely event there is an error or other occurrence that compromises or disrupts the testing process, ACT will examine the situation and determine whether it needs to take action, including not scoring answer documents or cancelling scores. If ACT determines that it needs to take action in response to any such error or disruption in the testing process, ACT will in its sole discretion (1) correct the error (if an error occurred and ACT believes correction is feasible), (2) not score tests or cancel scores and offer each affected person the option to retest at no additional fee (normally on a future national test date), or (3) not score answer documents or cancel scores and offer a refund. To take such action, ACT shall not be required to conduct an Individual Score Review or otherwise demonstrate that a compromise or disruption invalidated your specific scores. Decisions made by ACT regarding such compromises or disruptions in the testing process are final. If ACT offers a retest and you select that option (or it is selected for you in State and District testing), you must retake all four multiple-choice tests to produce a valid Composite score. If you took the writing test on the original test date, you may also need to retake the writing test in addition to the four multiple-choice tests to produce a valid English Language Arts score.

It is important that ACT ensure that reported scores are not affected by an irregularity and are valid. You, therefore, agree that ACT may inform anyone who has received a score report if there is an investigation into the validity of your reported test scores and if your score is cancelled. You also agree that ACT may disclose details about a test security investigation to score recipients and to anyone who may be able to assist with an investigation conducted by ACT, such as law enforcement, state departments of education, and local school officials. You agree that ACT will have no liability for exercising any of these rights.

For State and District testing: In the event of compromises/disruptions in the testing process, ACT may offer the option to retest at no additional fee or it may cancel the test event without an option for retest.

The remedies listed in this section are the exclusive remedies available for any examinee who experiences an irregularity in the testing process. In no event shall ACT be liable to an examinee for any special, indirect, consequential, exemplary, or punitive damages.

Retention Policy

We keep registration records for five years, answer documents for at least one year, and test scores indefinitely.
